Instructions to add column to left of column A for Day of Week (DOW)

- 1 Before starting, BE SURE that dates entered in column B are for the correct year!
With only the day/month showing without the year, it is not obvious from the event date year the event occurs, even though the (incorrect) year might be entered for the event in
- 2 Insert column BEFORE column A. (Old A is now B, old B is now C, etc.). Name the column 'I'
- 3 Highlight header for (new) column A and format for 'centered' text alignment and format for "Custom" format of "ddd". (3 'd's)
- 4 Highlight entire SHEET header by clicking the arrow at the corner of column A and row 1.
- 5 Format sheet for centered text VERTICALLY in cells. Do NOT change horizontal formatting.
- 6 You can enter the DOW manually, or use a formula to calculate DOW for the date entered in column B OR you can try a formula to calculate the DOW from your date entry in column B
`=IF(OR(ISBLANK(INDIRECT("B"&ROW()))),LEN(INDIRECT("B"&ROW()))>6,"",WEEKDAY(INDIRECT("B"&ROW())))`
Then copy the formula from this row in column A to all cells below it.
- 7 For data entry, start with the event date in column B. If it is a valid date (i.e. not a date range), column A will calculate the DOW for you. If it IS a date range, not a single date, then column A will not calculate the DOW and you'll have to enter the days of the week manually.

exists in which column B.

INDIRECT("B"&ROW()))

Therefore, the formula in column A will be blank
